Time: Tuesday morning, 8:30 –12:00

Description: A study of some of the major religions of the world.

Required Texts in Addition to the Bible:

- ◆ Neighboring Faiths, by Winfried Corduan

DESCRIPTION & AIM

As Christians, who seek to be relevant in today’s world, there is a need to understand the religious beliefs of those who live around us. This course will study of some of the world’s major religions. Each religion will be reviewed, in light of the teaching of the Bible, looking for ways to share our faith with our religious neighbors.

CLASS REQUIREMENTS

Attendance/Attitude/Participation.

Students are to be in class and on time. A Christian attitude is essential to both learning and working with others. Each student is expected to prepare for each class by reading any assigned material. Participation is expected in class-related activities.

Notebooks.

All students are expected to take notes. Notebooks should contain class notes, handouts, etc. – as well as your personal notes taken during classes. Your notebook will be checked and graded.

Quiz.

There will be a quiz after each chapter of Neighboring Faiths.

Mid-Terms.

The mid-term may be an assignment or a test on material covered in class.

Final Exam.

The final will be drawn from Neighboring Faiths, class lectures, notes, etc.

Final Grade.

The final will be determined by quiz and test scores, assigned reading, notebook and items listed under class participation.
